A ZINE WRITTEN BY ATTENDEES
• SPONSORED BY SWOONREADS.

Vive La Zine! (an intro)

"And we could have a zine table!"

"A what?"

"A table with sharpies and index cards and stuff, and people could write or draw things, and then we'd turn it into a zine."

I didn't grow up on zine culture, but in the last five years I've been diving in whenever I have the time. And they've been popping up everywhere, at least in my life: soup zines and travelogue zines and slash zines and political zines and art zines. Give me all ur zines, please and thank you! As we were planning Book Riot Live and I thought about what I wanted to have at the end of it, a zine made up of contributions from attendees was one of the first things on my list.

Thanks to SwoonReads for liking my crazy idea enough to sponsor it, and for their prompt! Many of the entries are 10 word love stories; I think you'll dig them. Thanks to Michael at Have Booth Will Travel, for handing me a stack of unclaimed photostrips and asking if I had any ideas on what to do with them. And above all, thank YOU, for coming to Book Riot Live, for hanging out with us, and, if you're in here, for lending a creative hand.

BE EXCELLENT TO EACH OTHER!

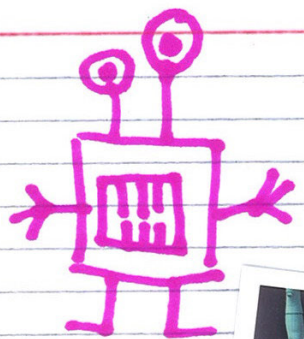

@ravencloudia

(Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure is a rad movie, but this is a good sentiment and practice beyond that, too. Book Riot Live has been full of kind, enthusiastic, genuine, thoughtful, good people connecting and celebrating what they love. Thank you for being excellent. Keep it up.)

Lipstick smeared across her face, pink bleeding onto her chin, a line drawn from lip to cheek. He noticed her, a pink smile as he moved back to look at her flushed cheeks. She grinned; he looked good in her ~~pink~~ lipstick.

WIZARD ACTIVIST:

a person who uses their fandom + their unironic enthusiasm for story to change the world; a person who knows there is power in love, community, and idealism; a person who - like the characters they know and love - strives to be a hero.

We've had a blast meeting all of you, talking your Apparating Library books, and telling you about who we are and what we do. Thank you for saying hi and sharing your stories! Stay nerdy. Stay magical.

Suddenly, he asked. She said Yes! They both laughed in shock. Too good to be true. Was he kidding? Was she? Take it back. Laugh it off. Ignore it. So he didn't mean it? She was devastated. She's become so distant. Why is she sad? why is he quiet? what's not working? it ended. But it could have been perfect.

Amazing event!
I loved meeting fellow book nerds.
